Remembering Residents Lost to COVID-19

For over a year, the COVID-19 pandemic has upended nearly every facet of daily life. Many have lost friends, family members, and loved ones to the virus. To memorialize residents lost over the past year, Lone Tree Post Acute in Antioch is planning a special event.

Activity Director Rosemarie Angeles reached out to the in-house Chaplain requesting a live virtual vigil for residents, staff, and family members using a video chat app on the iN2L group engagement system and tablets. Everyone will be invited to share cherished memories of residents who passed away, followed by a short hallway procession.

The procession will be accompanied by hymns and prayers. They will be played on the battery pack-powered group engagement system which will be wheeled from room to room. The procession will end in the dining area with snacks and a wall of remembrance, where staff and residents can leave handwritten notes for those who have passed.

Still in its early planning stages, Rosemarie knows how meaningful this event will be for everyone at Lone Tree Post Acute. For her, it's personal. Her mother, a long-term resident at the community, passed away on January 7, 2021.

"This picture is of a resident who used to be an engineer for JPL (Jet Propulsion Laboratory), so I put on a live stream of the Mars landing for him to watch, which he had read about in the newspaper and was very excited about."
